Dear Sir,

fib* Awards for Outstanding Structures 2002

In the name of the Jury and of fib, I thank you for having submitted an entry to the fib Awards for Outstanding Concrete Structures competition.

It is my pleasure to inform you that your project

Medical Sciences Building, Newcastle NSW, Australia

has been selected by the jury as a 'Nominee' (or 'Nominated structure') providing a good image for concrete reputation and promotion.

This is why your entry, together with the 'Award Winners' and 'Special Mentions', will during the Osaka Congress be presented continuously by an interactive computer presentation, at the fib stand (located within the Commercial Exhibition Hall).

The results of the fib Awards are to remain confidential before the event, but of course you may wish to inform all participants in the design and construction of your project who might be pleased to attend the Osaka Congress on this occasion.

As was done in 1998 for the Amsterdam Congress, fib will present in a small booklet the 'awarded' structures (5 in total, in both categories 'Buildings' and 'Civil Engineering Structures'), those which received a 'special mention' (also 5 in total) and all 'nominated' structures (21 in total). The brochure will be distributed in 2000 copies to all participants in the Osaka Congress and in about 1000 copies to all fib members, thus ensuring a worldwide dissemination. For the production of this brochure the fib will ask for support from owners and authors involved in the design, as well as from contractors and subcontractors concerned. A separate letter from the secretariat will explain the intended procedure in detail.

The fib secretariat would be happy to receive soon a message whether you yourself or another representative of the owner intends to participate in the Award ceremony.

Congratulating once more to this distinction I remain, yours sincerely

Michel Virlogeux
